

How do I know if I am being called to religious life?

Each one of us experience the call differently. God knows us and leads us in a way that suits us best. The attraction may come in many ways: through a Sister you admire, as a grace from a retreat you make, a desire that somehow wells up inside of you. However it may happen, there are certain signs you might look for.

These include:

- ❖ an increased awareness of God in your life,
- ❖ a developing friendship with Jesus and a growing desire to share in His mission of fulfilling the Father's plan for creation,
- ❖ a deepening appreciation of prayer, Eucharist and the Sacraments,
- ❖ a growing wonderment at what it would be like to be a Sister and a desire to give yourself completely to the Lord and the works of the Lord
- ❖ a caring attitude toward all of God's people, especially the most needy,
- ❖ an interest in being of service to others,
- ❖ an other-oriented stance toward life that would adapt to community living,
- ❖ a heightened awareness of what is most important in your life and a growing sense that God is calling you to something deeper than you have experienced.
